STAKING

Staking involves holding and locking cryptocurrencies in a wallet or platform to support the validation of transactions on a blockchain. In return, stakers earn rewards, typically in the form of additional cryptocurrency.

SWAP

A swap is a financial transaction where two parties exchange one asset or financial instrument for another, often to hedge against risk, speculate on price movements, or access different markets.

DEX

A Decentralized Exchange (DEX) is a peer-to-peer online platform that enables users to buy, sell, and trade cryptocurrencies in a decentralized manner, without the need for intermediaries like traditional exchanges.

GAMING

Gaming refers to the act of playing video games, either on consoles, computers, or mobile devices. It involves interacting with virtual environments, characters, and storylines, often with the goal of entertainment, competition, or socialization.

FOREX

Forex, also known as the Foreign Exchange market, is a global decentralized market where individuals, businesses, and institutions trade currencies. It's the largest financial market, with a daily trading volume of over $6 trillion, allowing participants to buy, sell, and exchange currencies 24/5.

SHOP

A shop is a retail establishment that sells goods or services to customers, either physically through a storefront or online through an e-commerce platform. Shops can specialize in various products, such as clothing, electronics, or food, and offer a range of services.
